Arlington Heights Gets Nod

Ask Race Track Annexation

Arlington Park, with one of the nation's foremost thoroughbred racing facilities and a new multi-million resort hotel, is expected to be annexed by the village of Arlington Heights, perhaps as early as October.

2 Held, Driver Sought After High-Speed Chase

Two brothers were arrested by Sheriff's Police early Sunday after a high-speed chase through Mount Prospect and Arlington Heights.

The driver, however, fled from the police moments after his auto crashed into a garage at Beverly and Hawthorne in Arlington Heights.

Charged with reckless conduct were Abel A. Castias, 25, and Cesar A. Castias, 24, both of 125 W. Palestine Rd., Palestine Township.

Police were seeking the driver, identified as Jose F. Martinez, 25, who was believed to be living on a farm in LaSalle County.

Paradise William Beltrami and David Olson reportedly found an open car at their home in the Marlton auto after hitting it at Milwaukee Ave. and Wirtz on a speeding chase.

The officers told Martinez, who they said did not appear to be intoxicated, to follow the squad car to the sheriff's police station in Niles, but Martinez reportedly sped west on Euclid.

Other officers joined in the chase on Euclid, where the auto reportedly reached speeds up to 90 miles per hour, and into a residential area in the northern section of Arlington Heights.

The auto stopped at Beverly and St. James moments after smashing into the corner of a garage and sidestepping a tree on the property of Richard Kelley, 646 W. Beverly. The garage and auto were both heavily damaged.

Martinez fled between several houses, but the Cavalier brothers were seized near the wrecked auto. They are to appear in Niles Circuit Court Sept. 24.

THE PRINCIPALS in the long negotiation have been Mayor Jack Walsh, Mrs. Marjorie Everett of Chicago Thoroughbred Industries and Philip J. A. Smith, president of Gulf and Western Realty Corporation. It was Levin who originally proposed the merger to Gulf and Western and Chicago Thoroughbred.

The formal announcement for national release is to be issued today from the New York headquarters of Gulf and Western, one of the nation's leading conglomerates with which Chicago Thoroughbred Enterprises completed a merger early this year.

The annexation petition will be reviewed in public hearings to be held by village trustees in the same manner as all annexations are handled. Final action is expected to come in 60 to 90 days.

HIGHLIGHTS PROVIDED in the annexation agreement are:—Arlington Heights will extend west to the new Rt. 53 expressway which is the present western border of Arlington Park.

—Arlington Park will have available for the first time a uniform municipal police service to regulate traffic and back up the internal security staff maintained by the park, especially during the racing season.

—The village of Arlington Heights agrees the cooperation of Arlington Park is expanding the park's private Chicago & Northwestern Railway into an urgently needed second public commuter station with parking that can serve western Arlington Heights, Buffalo Grove, western Palatine, Rolling Meadows and northern Schaumburg.

ABLINGTON PARK would be annexed, for a period of five years, of Arlington Heights cooperation in maintaining and servicing any racing schedule approved for the park, by the Illinois Racing Board which under existing state law may authorize racing between 12 noon and 10 p.m. on other midnights.

—Arlington Park will have the cooperation of Arlington Heights in developing the

5 Hurt As Cars Collide

Five persons were injured Friday in a two-car crash at Rand and Palestine Rds. in Arlington Heights.

Taken to Northwest Community Hospital in Lake Forest, F. Getz, 55, of Lake Zurich; Mrs. Judith Vasquez, 27, and her children, Robert, 9, Debbie, 7, and Chris, 5, of 1141 S. Wolf Rd., Wheeling.

State Police said Mrs. Van Chase's auto cut in front of Getz's northbound auto while it was making a left turn from Rand onto Palestine.

Police, ambulance attendants and passers by pulled the injured persons from the scene. All were treated at the hospital for cuts and bruises and were released. Mrs. Van Chase was charged with failure to yield the right-of-way.

Night Racing Is Coming

The annexation agreement worked out between officials of Arlington Park and Arlington Heights opens the way for night racing.

Mayor Jack Walsh discussed the issue frankly at the news conference. "We will not oppose night racing," Walsh said. "Let us face the realities. While we might delay it we cannot prevent night racing at Arlington Park. We have a ruling from the attorney general and that is the way it is.

I am not sure that there are feelings about the matter one way or another now. Many things have changed since night racing was discussed. Even the ownership of the race track has changed."

Pact Calls for Water, Police Aid, Sewers

The proposed annexation agreement between Arlington Heights and Chicago Thoroughbred Enterprises, Inc., would commit the village to providing police and fire protection as well as sewer and water service to the 450-acre race track complex.

Tax revenues from the proposed annexed property are estimated at $300,000 to $400,000 annually, more than enough to pay for such services. Even if the village broke even providing the increased services, Mayor John Walsh said, the funds would provide for expansion and modernization of the police, fire and other departments.

In addition, the proposed agreement commits the village to building both police and fire stations on the annexed property within five years if requested by Chicago Thoroughbred Enterprises. Land for the stations would be donated to the village.

THE SECTION OF

the agreement dealing with additional services reads: "The village agrees to furnish such additional police protection as may be required for the effective management of crowds and traffic control arising from and emanating from the facilities included in the development."

"In order to fully protect and area, if requested by the owner, the village will, within five years from the date of this agreement, erect a suitable police station within the area, provided that the owner shall donate without cost to the village a suitable site for said police station selected by the owner and approved by the village.

POLICE CHIEF L. W. Caldwell said the expanded police protection would require more police officers. The race track would still be responsible for its own security, he said.

Caldwell said the annexation would create no additional or unusual law enforcement problems. Arlington Heights police, he said, often assist with the problems until Cook County sheriff's police arrive. He said a police station in the area might only have to be operated during the racing season.

Fire Chief Harvey Carothers said the race track area receives fire protection from the Palatine Rd. fire protection district. Carothers said no plan for village fire protection in the area have been made yet.

Water and sewer facilities for the race track complex would be taken over and operated by the village. Additional water and sewer service would have to be provided as needed.

Have You Met the Secret Agents in Your Garden?

"Ladybug, ladybug, don't fly away but stay in my garden." There are many varieties of Ladybug Beetles, some with many spots, others with only two or a few. Their life span is one year.

Summer Woman's Editor

Right now out in your garden secret agents are at work, rooting out undesirable aphids, plant lice and scale insects. You may not think of these garden helpers as anything more than just ladybugs or creepy crawlers, but they are nature's way of controlling the tiny parasitic insects we do not realize are even there until a plant is eaten away.

One of the most popular of these helpers is the ladybug or ladybird beetle. Mrs. George H. Gardner, the scholarship chairman of The Garden Club of Illinois, is one of the ladybugs' staunchest advocates and admirers. Mrs. Gardner is in charge of the sale of ladybugs throughout the summer and she reminds, it is not too late to purchase them as a control for next summer's batch of insects.

FOR THE past five years

Mrs. Gardner has been hatching and selling ladybugs and in the early spring, praying mantises. It is too late to order the mantises. Proceeds from the sales now make possible seven scholarship awards to students of agriculture. University of Illinois, a total of $1,000 for the one scholarship first awarded in 1962.

Mrs. Gardner, assisted by her husband, raises the ladybugs and maintains in their garage and basement. "It is not unusual for one to buy up to 40 to 50 aphids a day," Mrs. Gardner said, "because this is their favorite food. They also eat a variety of other insects, eggs and larvae of the fruit flies, mealybugs, bollworms, leaf worms, leaf and flea beetles and corn ear worms. The time of the year they will find an abundance of such insects, tomato worms and caterpillars."

BOTH the ladybug and praying mantis are carnivorous, most eaters, and do not harm vegetation.

Unless you purchased a praying mantis this spring, it is too late to find one in your garden," Mrs. Gardner said. "Any place out there in Chicago area I would say yes, but the praying mantis is a creature which we experience in our Chicago springs are due on mantises. Their egg hatch at the first warmth, and then they die because there is nothing for them to eat."

Ladybird beetles can be purchased by air mail from Mrs. Gardner at the cost of $5.50 for one-half pint; $5.50 for one pint; $10 for a quart. George Gardner estimates that about 575 ladybugs in a half pint and an average of 75,000 in one gallon.

IT HAS been found that late evening after sundown is the best time of the day to release ladybugs. Put out during the heat of the day, they are apt to die. But when released while it is cool or even dark, they have a better chance to forget their fight or being handled. They will not fly at night, and by morning they will have settled down and be ready to go to work.

There are a great many varieties of ladybird beetles. They do not eat the same things nor do they have the same number of spots or coloring. Some are as large as a fingernail, others are as small as a pin head. Poison sprays are their only enemies.

LADYBUGS can be kept in an ordinary refrigerator for several days or even weeks. If placed where they will not freeze. They keep them in dormant condition and they do not require food. They may be removed from the package and placed in a small dish topped with a piece of light cotton, tied tightly at the top, placed in the refrigerator and then released as needed, a few at a time. Sprinkle with water occasionally.

For further information on ordering ladybugs, contact Mrs. George H. Gardner, 5754 Ashland Ave., Evanston, Ill. 60201. Enclose a self-addressed envelope for information or instructions. Orders can be filled on about a week's time.

'We Reach The Moon' is Week's Best Bargain

By Frances Albanese

Only days ago the Eagle landed, and at 10:56 p.m., E.D.T. on July 20, Neil A. Armstrong stepped cautiously down the ladder of Apollo 11 onto the moon.

This week in an "instant" set, Bantam Books has published the first comprehensive book of man's greatest adventure.

"We Reach The Moon," by John Noble Wilford, respected reporter for the New York Times, reached the public 78 hours after the successful splashdown of Apollo 11. It contains 416 pages with 64 in full color.

IN A SUPER-HUMAN effort, Bantam's printing facilities and staff in Des Moines worked around-the-clock to produce the paperback which in author began promoting around Chicago this week.

But the book's planning had been long before the Apollo 11's flight, nearly two and a half years ago. With the New York Times as co-publisher, John Noble Wilford began writing a year ago after covering all previous Apollo missions and prior related activities for the Times.

In addition to a massive collection of background leading up to Apollo 11's flight, "We Reach The Moon" contains photographs of Armstrong's moon walk, excerpts of conversations from their July 20 and 21 log, five concluding chapters detailing their rendezvous with the moon ship, splashdowns and recovery and numerous diagrams of various spacecraft structures.

FOR THOSE who would like to brush up, the opening chapters are devoted to brief explanations of prior rocket research projects, Ranger and Surveyor, the "lunar" flights of Mercury and Gemini and an introduction to the book's foreword, two like Jackowski and Robert Goddard.

"We Reach The Moon" is more than a well-documented account. Wilford has personalized it by capturing the human emotions and anecdotes which have marked this endeavor from its beginning.

"We're having a ball!" Walter Schirra shouted while on his Gemini 6 flight. And it records the sudden moments, too, in quotations from the tapes published as recordings of the final Apollo 11 flight.

IN THE WEEKS ahead there will no doubt be many fine books released on man's first landing on the moon, but it will be difficult to find another quite as comprehensive for $12.50 as Bantam's "We Reach The Moon."

Day by Day

Leading the Field

By Catherine O'Donnell

Now that Arlington Heights has announced the late fight-cop-negotiations to annex Arlington Park to the village which has been unincorporated for 30 years, many people by Day would like to remind readers that they read it here first.

On Thursday, March 20, the following item appeared in this column: "If you were a racetrack, would you want to be annexed? The figurative answer will be caused by the meeting in Rolling Meadows tonight will be caused by the Arlington Park should annex this town. Meanwhile Arlington Heights, which carries a horse's head on the 'A' of the police car, is trying to cut Rolling Meadows off at the point of intersection of Euclid and Wilcox.

"It all has something to do with access to the west end and access to the south which is unincorporated area. There often have been annexation rumors before, but this one refuses to let down and go away. Meanwhile no one will talk. This item will grow up and become a headline soon."

"Soon" took four months and two weeks, which includes a change of administration in Arlington Heights Village government. Arlington Heights present Village Board President Charles Walsh carried the ball for the so-called secret meeting. Charles Blumstein, head of Gulf and Western Inc., which owns Arlington Park, did make one memorable quote in Time Magazine's March 7 article on the subject: "I have never been asked to look for inside," he said. The article said: "We are a damn competitive company."

Honored
Stanley R. Safarik of 647 Clarendon, Arlington Heights, has been awarded with a pension and certificate for 15 years of service with Kraft Foods.

The annexation agreement will be published soon.

GOOD FRIEND
A very good friend of our town is Harold Bell, who is executive manager of the Arlington Heights Chamber of Commerce. Bell is in Wesley Memorial Hospital in Chicago. He is in Room 1212 undergoing treatment for some sort of eye trouble that will keep him hospitalized for a while.

"Bell has already been in the hospital for 10 days. He spends hours of his time making people happier. Drop him a card.

TAXES

Over the weekend it was interesting to note "Your Tax Dollars At Work."

On Friday a count of the new buses for the light which line Northwest Hwy., from Belmont to Wagonway, the village border, added up to 52 lights for that stretch of road.

The apartment dwellers whose bedrooms face the road deserve sympathy. When the work began it included the four-story intercity and perimeter streets at an estimated cost of $400,000 gas tax money. Road's car park will be built with two lights and space was left for the Arthur Ave. proposed railroad crossing. Stoughton's Windsor, which is a line with Arlington was declared an arterial street a few months ago.

In Evergreen Park, the bulldozers built and found on Saturday from early a.m. until late afternoon, to level the mountainside dirt that were being to spread them. It was nice to see such enterprise of works of no action. Do those workers get time and half for Saturday?

On Sunday morning, and a necessary thing it was indeed, the village workers were digging deep to mend the broken sewer main on Oakton and Belmont.

COMPLAINT

"Now," said the man who makes a weekly trip to the liquor store, "the new tax must be legal. However, I always thought it was illegal to tax a tax. My favorite brand went up from $4.99 to $5.39. The other seven brands made the tax 27 cents. That's 7 cents more sales tax. And how about those local stores who were charging the new cigarette price the day before the tax was supposed to go into effect?"

Letters to the Editor

Con-Con Candidate's
Views on Petitions

Editor,

With regard to the filing of petitions in this race for delegates to the Illinois State Constitutional Convention, many conversations and many statements have been made regarding the various possible improprieties and alleged misdeeds, and I too would like to make my feelings known.

Amendment No. 2, amending House Bill 548, which controls this issue, states: "The name of the person first filing his nominating petition with the Secretary of State shall be certified first on the ballot, and the names of the other candidates shall be listed in the order that their nominating petitions were filed with the Secretary of State."

I believe a very mentioned amendment changed the original law, which would have had a letter type drawing for position, to this first-come-first-served manner.

I can't say what what happened wasn't expected, but it is exactly the reason my father and I are running. Power politics are too strong, and they are turning a non-partisan election into a partisan election.

My wife and I were also present when the Secretary of State's boys' brought the revised petitions at 12:30 a.m. Also an interesting fact was that although they were allegedly mailed, they were unwrapped or unwrapped in boxes before they got to the inside department in the Secretary of State's office. Who were they brought to the office?

On July 6, 1969, my wife and I drove to Springfield and filed our petitions. Upon arrival at the Capitol around 8:30 p.m., we found some potential delegates already waiting, and we decided to also.

THE WAIT, about eleven hours, was orderly and interesting. Someone had put up a sign-up list at the door where we would file, so that there would be no miscommunication. As it would happen, Bill Robison of our district was already waiting, but we signed the list and my father and I were number 1 and 3 in our district on the list.

After us, in line, arriving in the morning were Mrs. Carl and Douglas Carmon from locally, among the five of us that filed personally the first day were the last on the ballot.

I can't say what what happened wasn't expected, but it is exactly the reason my father and I are running. Power politics are too strong, and they are turning a non-partisan election into a partisan election.

My wife and I were also present when the Secretary of State's boys' brought the revised petitions at 12:30 a.m. Also an interesting fact was that although they were allegedly mailed, they were unwrapped or unwrapped in boxes before they got to the inside department in the Secretary of State's office. Who were they brought to the office?

I truly do not blame any person for being angry with this type of corruption. To obtain 1,000 signatures and more without the aid of an organization is quite a chore. Also attempting to get a higher position on the ballot to help, if only slightly, the political machine competition and being "back-door" is heartening to any aspirant.

To further intimidate some, any petitions that were sent to the Secretary of State's office prior to July 7, 1969, were returned for being filed too early. As a closing statement, knowing how much work goes into obtaining petitions, I would challenge any and all delegates from my district and any other district to produce for me or the news media the postmarked return certified mail receipts from the mailing of their petitions in Springfield. I can't believe such valuable papers would be mailed any other way.

I defy the good people at the top of the ballot to prove their integrity and accept the challenge.

Primary Election Bill Awaits Ogilvie Action

By Richard Kagle
Rep. David J. Ragner, (R-Mount Pleasant) asked officials in the Governor's office in Springfield yesterday when Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie would be likely to act on the primary election bill.

The bill which was passed by the Illinois General Assembly in June provides for holding the Illinois primary in 1970 and years after on the third Tuesday in March. The first date for filing would be Dec. 4 of this year.

Ragner learned that Gov. Ogilvie still must act on some 1,400 bills passed by the General Assembly. Ogilvie has been acting on about 150 bills a week, but said he will make an effort to increase the number.

REP. RAGNER said he thought Gov. Ogilvie will sign the primary bill. The Governor's office took a hard in signing the bill which at one time called for moving the primary to April.

Ogilvie pointed out that it could be several months before the primary election during the time the General Assembly is holding its annual session.

Board Rejects Proposal For Building Restaurant

The Arlington Heights Village Board last night rejected a proposed Chicken Unlimited restaurant next to the service station at the northwest corner of Central and Arlington Heights Rds.

The 20,000 square foot lot, adjacent to several houses and an apartment building, is zoned for business use, but has a restriction requiring it be used for a restaurant.

Property owner Arthur Neller was rebuffed by the board last year in his attempt to develop a franchise food restaurant on the property. At the time, William Moore, then village trustee, said he thought the board that night would be the last time he would be asked to do so.

Moore said the lot is too small for an office building or similar development.

Thirty area residents appeared to object to the proposed restaurant. Chicken Unlimited is at 931 S. Evergreen said.

Budget Hearing

By Robert Kagle
In a committee of the whole board last night the School District 23 Board of Education approved a budget for the school year 1969-70.

The board had voted on July 14 to hold a public hearing on the budget.

Board President Robert L. Forgie said he will be unable to attend the Aug. 11 meeting because of his vacation. He said the board that the date of the public hearing can be postponed until September.

Mrs. Jerome Heide, of Marberry Dr., Prospect Heights, told the board that she has contacted many residents who intend to go to the public hearing.

Edward Grady, district school superintendent, told the board he would like to know the amount of the additional budget before the school year begins.

Mrs. Jennie said, "I am of the opinion that the district is in a good position. I hope we'll be here on Aug. 18. This is the day that has been announced."

DURING THE superintendent's report on appointment of certified personnel, Mrs. Heide questioned some of the board's attitudes and practices.

"I'd like to know the board's attitude toward teacher applicants who submit that they are avoiding the draft," she asked.

Grady replied, "I'd like to avoid this kind of situation. I have been very attempt to have black or yellow candidates?" she asked.

"We have received no such applicants," Grady told her. In other business, the board made plans to investigate the possibility of having a side which is scheduled to begin April 1. The session could begin a primary date during either of those months could coincide with the work of the legislature.

THE SPECIAL primary is to be held Oct. 7 and the special election is scheduled for Dec. 8. If he wishes to be certain of having his name at the head of the March primary ticket.

If Gov. Ogilvie signs the primary bill, Illinois will become the first large state to hold a primary. New Hampshire has traditionally been the first to hold a primary, the first Tuesday after the first Monday in March.

Residents of Palatine, Rolling Meadows, and Arlington Heights, the three municipalities in the northwest corner of the Cook County area, would be the first to hold a primary.

Ragner and most other legislators in the northwest would have preferred to move the Illinois primary to September, but the campaigning period would be shortened between the Illinois primary and the November general election.

THE COST OF conducting such long primary campaigns is becoming a burden, said Ragner. "Two months would be enough time for candidates to make themselves known and discuss the issues."

The disadvantage of such an early primary is dramatized by the special elections in the 13th Congressional district to succeed a successor to Donald Rumsfeld who resigned, in May to become an assistant to President Nixon.

THE COST OF conducting such long primary campaigns is becoming a burden, said Ragner. "Two months would be enough time for candidates to make themselves known and discuss the issues."

The disadvantage of such an early primary is dramatized by the special elections in the 13th Congressional district to succeed a successor to Donald Rumsfeld who resigned, in May to become an assistant to President Nixon.

THE SPECIAL primary is to be held Oct. 7 and the special election is scheduled for Dec. 8. If he wishes to be certain of having his name at the head of the March primary ticket.

If Gov. Ogilvie signs the primary bill, Illinois will become the first large state to hold a primary. New Hampshire has traditionally been the first to hold a primary, the first Tuesday after the first Monday in March.

Residents of Palatine, Rolling Meadows, and Arlington Heights, the three municipalities in the northwest corner of the Cook County area, would be the first to hold a primary.

Ragner and most other legislators in the northwest would have preferred to move the Illinois primary to September, but the campaigning period would be shortened between the Illinois primary and the November general election.

THE COST OF conducting such long primary campaigns is becoming a burden, said Ragner. "Two months would be enough time for candidates to make themselves known and discuss the issues."

Driver Robert Carlin of the Northwest Truck and Service area parked near the new drive-in service was officially opened last Saturday.

Book, 311 S. Arlington Heights Rd., drives his 1959 Buick to get a haircut for the opening of the drive-in service at the bank, as follows:

have a good effect" and that it would create a different atmosphere. "I hope it can help give some relief from all of that real estate tax there." He added that all it does is create traffic problems to their might as well give some of that money to us and not the state.

JOSEPH T. KILGORE of 155 M. C. Ave., Arlington Heights, said that he thought it would be a good thing and to "bring them in fast."

Francis E. Somers, 1206 W. Superior, Arlington Heights, said that if it brought in more money he was for it. "They are using our town anyway and they might as well use it."

Mr. Tommy C. Pearson of 1010 W. Alexander, Arlington Heights, said that it would bring in more money for Arlington Heights but would require enforcement and there would be more people wanting to get their finger in the pie. She added that it will "either be our glory or our shame."

ALBERT G. STEPHENS of 6 W. Wagon, Arlington Heights, said his only objection to the annexation of Arlington Park is that it would bring in more money for Arlington Heights but would require enforcement and there would be more people wanting to get their finger in the pie. She added that it will "either be our glory or our shame."

THE BOARD ALSO gave preliminary approval to develop a new shopping center at the southwest corner of Central and Arlington Heights Rds. The board was directed to draw up a tentative ordinance, but final board approval will be contingent on submission of drainage, sewerage and site plans for the shopping center.

Trustee Charles Bennett said the board is seriously concerned about future drainage problems and that plans for water detention to slow run-off would have to be in the board's hands.

That board set aside $30,000 in money for future improvements to Belmont and Douglas from Thomas to Ogilvie. It also approved a rezoning ordinance which allows development of a Ford auto body factory on Dundas Rd. west of Arlington Heights.

Ronald P. Stander of 844 Holy Way in Palatine, said that it would be just as well to have it unopposed because he was of any kind being incorporated.

MRS. RICHARD S. Stanley of 4 Conventy-on-Dunbar, Rolling Meadows, said that it would have been a good idea if he wanted to Rolling Meadows because of the increased revenue it could bring.

Verne L. Wallace of 2204 Campbell, Rolling Meadows, said that it should have been in Rolling Meadows but now Arlington Heights would get it. He said that it was a great thing for the area. He added that it would have increased revenue in Rolling Meadows.

He blamed the fact that many thought the park would bring undesirable into the area for its failure to be considered for possible annexation to Rolling Meadows.

Deviled Cherries With Angel Food Cake

By Margaret Murphy
When I was a youngster my mother and I often had little discussions about Paradise as the cooked. We visualized a perfect garden where all manner of perfect fruit-bearing trees and shrubs grew all intended for the joy and good health of mankind.
Because of Adam and Eve's important role in this garden, we felt that we had created apples first. I was sure, however, that cherries were second.
Later when my husband learned about our discussions, he made it a point to have a box of cherries shipped to us each season. The following dessert resulted.

- DEVILED CHERRIES
1 pound black cherries
2 cup light brown sugar
1 cup water
1 teaspoon lemon juice or frozen lemonade concentrate
1 stick cinnamon
1 teaspoon almond flavoring
1 measure Bob Marichalou Liqueur

Wash and stem black cherries. Combine in saucepan brown sugar, water, lemon juice and stick cinnamon. Cook for 5 minutes. Add cherries and cook for 15 minutes. When mixture is cold, discard cinnamon stick and add liqueur and almond flavoring. Chill. Serve with Angel Food Cake.
Of course, this dessert was served to my children and the lighter audience. There was always angel food cake on hand because their early diet used up egg yolks only. With young mothers in mind, here is my favorite angel food recipe, which I baked and baked in a small tube pan.

Additional information may be obtained by calling the school at 729-1230.

ANGEL FOOD CAKE
1/2 cup egg whites (room temperature)
1/2 teaspoon cream of tartar
1/2 cup pastry flour
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon vanilla flavoring
A few drops almond flavoring
Beat egg whites until frothy. Add cream of tartar and beat until held their own weight. Then, lightly fold in dry ingredients, sifted together five times. Add flour, sugar, and vanilla in unmeasured small spoon in about 125-150 degrees for 35 minutes. Then decrease heat to 325 degrees for 2 minutes to brown cake. Let cool in inverted pan before removing onto a sheet of wax paper.

TOO MUCH MILK CAN LEAD TO INFANT ANEMIA

Although milk is a wonderful substance by itself it does not alone supply all the essential nutrients. Sometimes new parents keep infants on "milk alone" for too long. A leading pediatrician suggests that babies should be started on solid foods when the milk or formula intake reaches one quart, when the infant weighs 10-11 lbs., or baby is 3 mos. old. Your doctor will tell you when. Other suggestions are to offer milk by cup at 5-6 months, encourage early self-feeding, avoid force feeding and eating specific foods. For needed iron-enriched baby cereals, meat and eggs are the best sources and should be started as early as your physician directs.

Tastes for Art, Business Combine in Gallery Here

By Bob Burns

The vaunted European taste for art and the equally vaunted American taste for business are being combined to make art a success in Des Plaines. It is a 14,000-sq-ft Frank Ventel is the new manager of the Nationwide Art Center, 1501 Elmwood.

Opened this spring, it is the seventh Nationwide gallery in the Chicago area and the first in the northwest suburbs.

Business has been something less than brisk and Ventel, who lives at 219 N. Vile Dr. in Palatine, attributes this to several things.

Top on his list is the fact that Des Plaines residents have become accustomed to buying their art work in Chicago or in major suburban shopping centers, unaware they now have an art store in the heart of their own city's business district.

VENTEL also is anxious to help Des Plaines homeowners acquire a greater understanding of art, particularly oil paintings. To this end, he is offering to conduct private parties and sales for women's clubs and art groups at the store.

The store is closed for such a function, and refreshments are served. Twenty per cent of all such sales proceeds go to the acquisition.

Ventel said he has received permission of the Chicago Catholic Archdiocese to hold such sales for Catholic women's clubs in the area.

Other interested groups may make arrangements for a sale by discussing it with Ventel at the store.

The new manager moved with his family from Romania to Germany when he was 12 years old and it was there he first began studying art. He came to America at the age of 17.

Ventel, now 36, has been with Nationwide for six years and most recently managed the chain's store in Glenview. Nationwide offers original oil paintings by European artists at all price ranges, from a few dollars to contemporary oil works going for $300 to $1,000.

In a definitely un-European move, the store also offers credit sales with up to 24 months to pay and a five-year exchange guarantee.

This latter has proven popular with sometimes-fickle art buyers who tire of a painting after a few years or who move and need different paintings for their new homes.

Any time during the five years a customer can return his painting as long as it is in good condition and get a full refund on the price in exchange for some other painting.

NATIONWIDE Art Centers were begun by German-born Simon Ansel and his son, Dan. Simon was a clerk in a Goldblatt's store before he got the "art for everybody" idea 10 years ago.

With about $1,200 in his pocket, he took off for Europe, where he bought a handful of originals from Italian, European artists and brought them back to the U.S.

It took him only a week to sell them, so he got on the phone and ordered more. He set himself up in a small gallery in Chicago.

Most aged persons live in homes they own, a special United States Senate committee reports. This comfort may be denied to them in the years ahead if they lack the financial resources to keep them. The economic plight of those 65 and older is getting so desperate that home ownership, the most important asset of the elderly, is becoming increasingly difficult to maintain as taxes rise along with costs of maintenance and repair.

Horoscope

FOR WEDNESDAY
LEO (July 24-Aug. 23): You can give a convincing account of your activities to anyone who asks if you've been busy in the keeping of facts and figures.

VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23): The wise Virgo will forgo the opportunity to make business contacts with members of the opposite sex. Wait until tomorrow.

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23): Seek the reason for present difficulties in your own past experience. You may not be as much as a fish as you think.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22): Don't count on your ability to interpret other people's actions today. Let others tell you what it is they're trying to accomplish.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 22): If you would know success by day's end, begin your work slowly and carefully. Chance of pitfalls is higher than usual.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23-Jan. 20): Young people may well have the answer to family disturbances. Open your ears and your heart to what they have to say at this time.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19): Though things may look unlikely at the present time, keep your eye upon your established goal and continue working.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 21): Interest yourself in things other than professional and business success. Make an effort to help another overcome difficulties.

ARIES (March 22-April 20): There is little to gain by approaching an intellectual problem from an emotional standpoint. Control your feelings.

TAURUS (April 21-May 21): An excellent time for getting your point across to those in authority. The wise Taurus will wait until asked.

GEMINI (May 22-June 21): Indiscrete, not activities on the spur of the moment. You need time to think things over; almost everything sells on your facts.

CANCER (June 22-July 23): If you would keep the confidence others have in you, make an effort to explain present behavior. You may be being misunderstood.

What was the 12th district candidate think of next Gen-eral Marks of White? Marks campaigning for the special Oct. 7 Republican primary is seen at the Arlington Market in Arlington Heights this week helping a housewife carry the groceries to the car, all just to get a chance to say a few words about his candidacy for a seat in Congress.

Marks Samples Voter Opinion

Gerold Marks of Winnetka who is campaigning for the special Oct. 7 Republican primary in the 12th congressional district began this week distributing a special questionnaire to determine how citizens of the district felt on key national issues.

"This is evidence that I will keep alive the tradition established by Donald Rumelind," said Marks in introducing the new survey.

"I believe that an effective representative must understand the views of his constituents."

Two of the questions relate to young people. One asks voters if they favor lowering the voting age to 18. Another asks if voters favor the federal government taking an active role in controlling campus disorders.

"The first question relates to the future use of American troops in Vietnam."

Voters may mark any one of four alternatives, asking if U.S. troops should be withdrawn after the North Vietnamese troops are also withdrawing or delaying withdrawal until 1970 to the South Vietnamese have time to group for defense of their country or whether U.S. troops should be withdrawn immediately.

Can't turn back the calendar

Ever dream of the "good old days"? Only a rich to school, $25-a-month bread man, and low, low auto insurance. There's no going back. And who wants to? Mad roads, rampant crime, and auto insurance with half the benefits you get today from Country Companies.

Many Country auto insurance covers are simply aren't available from most other companies. And you'd have to look a long time to find better rates.

Why not let me tell you more?

Map showing the location of the proposed station (S) and the existing station (E) relative to the intersection of South 93rd Street and Highway 101. The map includes labels for various roads: PALATKA ROAD, SOUTH 93RD STREET, RUGLID ROAD, KIRCHOFF ROAD, CENTRAL ROAD, HIGHTS ROAD, and ARLINGTON ROAD. A legend at the bottom indicates that the dashed line represents the ANNEXATION BOUNDARIES.

Who Gets What In Track Annex

Map shows the three parcels of land involved in annexation proposal by the owners of Arlington Park Race Track, Gulf & Western Industries, Inc. and its subsidiary, Chicago Thoroughbred Enterprises, Inc. The three sites are enclosed by dotted lines. Site 1 is located to the east of the intersection of the corner of the original property of Arlington Park, which has been isolated after the construction of Illinois 53. The owners of Arlington Park want to develop the land and have it annexed to the Village of Mount Prospect. Site 2 is located on the east side of the golf course, Arlington Park Towers Hotel and the Carousel Restaurant, for which annexation to Arlington Heights has been proposed. Site (3) is proposed for development and the annexation to the Village of Mount Prospect. The three parcels are all revenue-producing establishments by Arlington Heights as nearly equivalent to annexing an entire shopping center such as Northridge in Mount Prospect, one of the largest under one roof in the world. Estimation of additional revenue to the Village of Mount Prospect has been based on an $700,000 a year for Site 1, $400,000 for Mount Prospect Mayor Robert Telchick estimates $600,000 a year in sales taxes to that village.

Mrs. Atwater's Quilts Cover Hospital Cribs

By Lorraine Lamberty

Some persons take it easy when they become senior citizens, but not Mrs. Janetta Atwater. "I never could stand not being busy," Janetta said. "There is a great need for volunteer services in our world, and I will want to help where I can. I especially like to give my services through my church. Another thing I have been blessed with good health and that helps."

JANETTA is a member of the First United Methodist Church of Arlington Heights. She is courtesy chairman for her circle and secretary for the Golden Hour Club. The past ten years she has helped with the weekly mailing of the church's newsletter.

For 13 years Janetta has done volunteer work at Wesley Memorial Hospital. Until recently she donated one day a week to the hospital, but now gives one day every other week. She helps prepare and package support supplies that are needed.

Another of her interests is the Foster Avenue Old People's Home, and she is a member of the auxiliary.

For the past 16 years she has lived in Illinois, and she has been an Arlington Heights resident for ten years. Her mother was a talented and artistic seamstress, so Janetta learned to sew when she was a very little girl living in New York State.

JANETTA ENJOYS sewing and crocheting, but the devotion most of her sewing time to quilting. A tablecloth she crocheted was displayed at her church's autumn and spring exhibit and spring luncheon this year.

One of her current projects is a large quilt of the Dresden plate pattern. Fifty-four completed squares are needed to make the quilt. She has made three bedspreads of this pattern.

A continuous project is making quilted crib covers for the pediatric ward at Wesley Memorial Hospital. The covers are made in the hospital by her church circle's name, because the circle members save the material for her to make the quilts. She uses all new material. Mrs. Atwater plans a variety of patterns so the quilts are not all alike. This is possible because of the abundance of fabric she receives from so many persons.

"It is a challenge to lay out the small pieces and work out different designs," Janetta said. "I work in light squares and dark ones to add interest. Sometimes I will work in a row of squares of large squares or the pattern of small squares. I have to watch the pattern closely, as the colors are not exactly square. The measurements are one yard by one and one-fourth yard. For the back of the cover, I use cotton flannel material."

After having eye surgery this past winter, Janetta finds she cannot do so much handsewing, so she stitches the pieces of the quilt together by machine. But she still handstitches the completed designs to the squares, and hems the edges of the cover together by hand. She then ties the completed cover.

Janetta has made 100 crib covers for the hospital in the past three years. She has also made over 25 covers for special orders.

NOTHING GOES to waste. Pieces too tiny for quilts are saved and the makes pot holders from very small squares. Janetta has made more than 200 of the holders. The directions are quite simple.

To make a pot holder, cut 25 one- and one-fourth inch squares of a variety of materials. Sew five squares together to make a row, then sew five rows together. This will be the top square for the pot holder. Be sure to make a very narrow seam.

Several layers of cotton flannel or a quilted cotton of the same size as the top square may be used for the center discolor. Sew the pieces together one-fourth inch from the edge.

CUT A SEVEN and one-half inch square from one of the fabrics used on the top square of holder to be used for the back of the holder. The pot holder is coordinated in design and color.

To assemble, place back piece on table with wrong side up. Next place the pieces that are based together with the quilt design right side up. Fold the back piece up over the front edge and sew under seam here by hand, making corners square. Hand quilt through all this noise at several evenly spaced intervals to keep the layers from slipping.

The top and bottom made from the same fabric as the back of the holder to one corner of the holder. The top corner may then be hand quilted.

WHEN ASKED if he had heard about the new fashion crew of making skirts from quilts, Janetta said the fact had about it in the newspaper, but wouldn't it wouldn't be very warm.

Mrs. Atwater has many other hobbies. Her enjoy reading and especially (like poetry). She works crossword puzzles, and enjoys television programs.

She also likes to travel and is a member of the local Over Fifty Club. She has gone on several trips with the group, including trips to New England, Washington, D.C., and Hawaii.

How to Keep the Anguish Out of a Moving Experience

By Carlton Smith and Richard Farnham Pratt

If you are planning to move and tend to cry easily, the next few months may be a tough time for you. Summer is the peak period for moving from one home to another and friends and neighbors who understand the experience are bound to fill your car with tales of woe.

Anyone who moves seems to come away from the experience with a sad tale to tell. Some of the stories are positively heart-breaking.

The most heart-breaking of these are being reported in Washington these days and are getting a sympathetic hearing from congressional committees.

Op m m e r c e Commission.

ment that the frequently shoddy treatment of the mover has to do the best you can to defrond yourself under current conditions. Here are a few tips you should find helpful:

Pick a slow season. All other things being equal, the worst time to move is during the summer months, particularly in those weeks just before school begins.

Trying to move in the summer is like trying to get tickets for a Broadway night. Everyone is trying, too. This makes it hard to move when the time you want, hard to deal with people already overworked and hard to get the move made as fast as you would like.

There's no certainty that your move will be made more easily in January than in July, but the odds run that way.

Discount estimates. There is great confusion about cost estimates in interstate moves. Inexperienced customers tend to regard them as bids, and often choose the firm that submits the lowest figure. Estimators, of course, know better, but do little to educate the customer since it may only lose them a contract.

The only purpose of the estimate is to provide you and the shipper with some idea of the size and cost of the shipment.

Since all interstate carriers levy identical charges for shipping, based on the weight of the shipment, the figure is not a bid.

Be adequately insured. While it is true that damage to your goods is only one of the many hazards you face when you hire a mover, it is the only one you can insure yourself against, so it's wise to do so.

You can't, however, simply rely on the carrier's coverage. His liability is limited to 60 cents per pound for items lost or damaged. This is fine if he loses one of your garbage cans, but for a six-pound radio it's ridiculous. If the radio cost $50, all you'd get back would be $3.60.

You can buy adequate coverage by paying an extra fee. It can be bought either through the mover himself, or from an independent insurance broker.

Keep your eyes open. When they are loading the van, look and see what's going in. Movers have been known to carefully pack "forward" and then forget the lawnmower.

Take careful note, too, of the condition of every item.

When the time comes to off-load, examine all items carefully and ask the driver to sign your list of articles that show signs of transit damage.

Walgreen Prices Drop

Promotion

Effective in every Walgreen Drug Store in Chicago, the new "Wonderdrug" program is a discount pricing of 10,000 different items, a walk-totally reduction which extends only to the relatively few maintained-price and franchise lines which may not be legally be cut.

Drug and health needs, cosmetics, candy, cigars, house hold needs, and the thousands of other things Walgreens sell will be Wonderdrug priced every day a week.

The walk-totally scope of the discounting program is other customer-benefiting effect. As a Walgreen spokesman stated, "A great proportion of drugstore items are rarely advertised at cut prices. Now these many non-competitive items will be discounted seven days a week."

DOES Walgreen anticipate a profit under "Wonderdrug"? "Quite the contrary," says S. S. Raab, store operations vice president. "We're ready for this move. Our larger stores are getting greater efficiency and productivity, and resulting savings on costs permit us to sell for less. Our operations are profitable."

Seafood Manager

David M. Malone, of 1820 Forest, Mead, Prospect, has been appointed assistant regional sales manager of Brilliant Seafood, Inc. Malone has been sales manager for Reddy Whip Inc., and director of sales for Chain King Corporation in Detroit.

Shortly after this photo was taken yesterday afternoon, the street from The Prospect Day School and Northwest Heights, John K. Hart Jr. (right), 16, of 1820 Walling Road, Arlington Heights, was arrested for disorderly conduct after the 4th foot long bus committee he was carrying over his shoulder. Mount Prospect Police Officer Edwin Harknessman arrested Hart at Mount Prospect court Aug. 27 at 9:30 a.m. Hart's committee wouldn't give him a name. The Day photographer and police records listed him only as Jack Moulding of Mount Prospect. (Photo by Gary Falick)

7 Students Helping At Clearbrook

Sweet students from the northwest suburbs have spent the month of July doing volunteer work at Clearbrook Center for the Handicapped, 1200 N. Campbell, Rolling Meadows. A total of 14 summer day school teachers were: Rick Upping, 241 School Dr., Cary Rogers, 2210 Cedar, Keith Gagnon, 313 Fremont, Kathleen Baker, 1102 St. James and Cindy Nordlund, 1905 Eagle, all of Rolling Meadows; Debra Horne, 1000 W. Fremont, Arlington Heights; and Venus Kudskis, 3445 Meadow Lane, Des Plaines.

RICK UPPING, a junior at Forest View High School came to Clearbrook because he was interested in special education and liked working with children.

"I live near Clearbrook and I heard they needed volunteers. I thought this would be a good chance to see if I would enjoy working in special education," he said.

"I work in the gym with the children, playing ball, or watching them in wagons. One boy I've been working with loves to play baseball. When I first started working with him he didn't even know how to swing a bat. I taught him to the point to show him a baseball diamond. He was pretty excited when he saw that home plate was in the ground."

"He's getting pretty good at playing ball and the other day he hit a ball clear across the gym," said Rick.

"Each child I helped with has a different problem. But it's a nice feeling to know you can help someone. I'm pretty sure I'm going to go into special education and I plan to come back to Clearbrook next summer," he added.

DEBRA HORNE, a junior at John Hervey High School, has been working with the preschool primary group (5 and 6).

Urges Village Board Denial Panel Rejects Car Wash

The Arlington Heights Plan Commission last night voted to recommend denial of a zoning petition that would have been the first step toward allowing a car wash at 2100 S. Arlington Heights Rd.

The 100-by-400-foot residentially zoned lot adjacent to proposed medical center on one side and a single-family residence on the other. Will Moore, attorney for contract purchaser Louis Bozo, said the proposed car wash would be able to accommodate 72 cars on the lot. The car wash also would have several automatic pumps, he said.

Though a car wash is a manufacturing zoning use, owners of the lot, Mr. and Mrs. Edna E. Plan, requested a business (B-2) zoning approval from the Plan Commission. The car wash in a B-2 district they would further need a zoning variation, which they plan to seek later this month from the Zoning Board of Appeals.

The Village Board recently denied a similar variation request for a car wash at the corner of Palestine and Arlington Heights Rds. Moore said Bozo would not purchase the property unless both the rezoning and the variation could be obtained.

The rezoning request also included a request for a special use permit to allow pumping of gasoline.

ATTORNEY EUGENE SCHICKMAN, representing ALAR Ltd., developer of the proposed medical center, objected to the legal notice of last night's hearing, saying it incorrectly designated the property as R-3 residential. He said the property is zoned R-1.

Schickman said the purchase contract between Bozo and Mr. and Mrs. Plan was correct because it mentioned a service station development for the property and not a car wash. Moore said the proposed car wash would be a service station in the same that it would have gasoline pumps. Schickman said approval of the rezoning would be a "regressive step" for Arlington Heights Rd.

If the rezoning request were approved, he said the commission, "You will be taking a step toward making S. Arlington Heights Rd. south of Illinois St."

Attorney George Forrest, representing developer Lee Romano, objected to the car wash, saying its peak traffic hours would coincide with those of the medical center and the shopping center Romano plans to build at Golf and Arlington Heights Rds.

Romano's shopping center is in the process of receiving final approval from the Village Board.

Robert Schwabe, 2124 S. Arlington Heights Rd., said the proposed car wash would cause traffic problems.

"It's unbelievable amount of traffic that's on that road right now," he said of Arlington Heights Rd. "With the development of the churches from the tollroad to Arlington Heights Rd. our traffic problem is going to compound."

Schwabe said residents in the area planned to move eventually because of the traffic.

Rainbow of Confusion Keeps Dist. 59 in Black

By Jan Beas

Saying in the black and out of the red is a good objective for school boards, even if it leads to some odd sounding conversations.

The District 59 school board spent five minutes Monday discussing why the yellow sheets didn't match up with their blue sheets.

Their colorful conversation will be recorded on the "green sheets" which District 59 will be mimeographing in minutes.

BOARD MEMBERS receive lots of background information before meeting—reports, lists, bills, and similar items. They can study and know facts before discussing the meetings.

Included in this information are disbursement lists, which District 59 mimeographs on yellow paper, and a disbursement financial statement which goes on blue paper. "Blue sheet" last night only current disbursement lists and cumulative five totals, by account, for the school year.

Reported also receive this information.

BOARD MEMBER Harold Harvey, a banker, said he was yellow when he saw the disbursement list and did not seem to match expenditures on the blue financial statement.

Business Manager Louis Audi told Harvey that although the "blue sheet" financial statement carried a June 30 date, it actually showed disbursements the board had approved at the last meeting in 1969.

July and the first meeting in June.

Audi later told The Day that items on the disbursement list (yellow sheets) which were approved during the first meeting in July are expenses incurred during the month of June.

HE SAID It will always be impossible to match the yellow sheets with the blue sheets exactly because of bookkeeping adjustments and additional entries.

"For instance," Audi said, "we may pay some administrative travel expenses but later get reimbursed from a federal grant."

Under this fall, District 59 disbursement lists will be changed to list disbursements by account numbers, rather than alphabetically, as they do now. An alphabetical breakdown.

down listing people who will receive the checks will be provided under each account number.

DISTRICT 59's annual audit by Post, Merwick, Mitchell & Co. is now in progress, and may be completed within the next three weeks. A budget committee meeting, open to the public, has been scheduled for 7 p.m. Sept. 8 before the regular board meeting.

Schools in the district are: Law in Arlington Heights; Jay, Forest, Forest View Elementary, Haines and Dempster in Mount Prospect; Elmwood, DeWolfe, Brenewood and High Ridge Knolls in Des Plaines; and Grove, Grant Wood, Cook, Liverty, Byrd, Salt Creek, Hopkins, Clearmont, Ridge and Ripley in Elk Grove Village.

College President To Head Panel

Harper College President Robert E. Labl, was recently elected chairman of the American Junior College Council, "Group 10 Community Colleges for the Seventies" (GT70).

Labl, who has served on the GT70 board of trustees since 1968, second Oliver Laine, former president of Pima College, Tucson, Ariz.

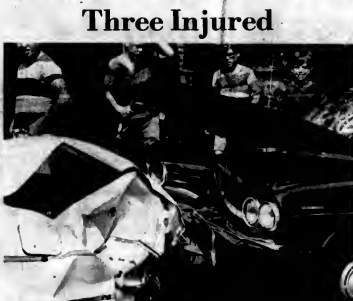

Harper College joined nine other member institutions to launch the consortium in 1969.

The consortium's main interest is centered in areas of common concern to community colleges—operation, education, and methods.

Financial support for GT70 is derived from private foundations and governmental agencies. Programs are based upon the shared talent, ideas, and experiences of member institutions, and are made available to newly developing colleges throughout America and other countries.

Harper College programs developed for the consortium's library include TV video tapes and slide films on teaching and student education projects.

Weeds Choke Vacant Lots

This year's over-abundant rainfall has produced a heavy crop of weeds in the vacant lots of Arlington Heights, creating problems for the Health Services Department, said Jeff Kuestner, department director.

Kuestner said yesterday that village ordinances provide that all weeds are improper growths unless cut, pulled, sprayed or destroyed. The law gives two time periods a year, during which weeds must be controlled. The first period is between May 1 and June 15; the second is between July 15 and August 15. After each period, letters of warning are sent out.

"Neighborhood living near vacant lots could help the Health Services Department with the weed problem by not dumping on vacant lots," Kuestner said. "Weeds scattered on vacant lots only slow down the weed being done by either the owner or the village when the weeds are cut."

There are 237 vacant lots in Arlington Heights, Kuestner said, and one of the biggest problems is in finding the owners, who must be notified by certified letters. They are given a 10-day period to remove the weeds, and then allowed 10 days to receive the letter to do something about the weeds.

When an owner of a vacant lot is delinquent after the 10-day period," said Kuestner, then the Health Services Department has to hire a company to come in and clear the lot of weeds. They send the bill to the owner. Most persons are cooperative about either cutting the weeds or paying the village when the weeds are cut for them."

This field near Arlington Heights Rd., looking out from the intersection of Palestine Rd., shows how the rain this year have caused rapid growth of weeds in vacant lots. The 237 vacant lots in the village, with many weeds, are causing a big problem, for those suffering from hay fever, said Jeff Kuestner, director of the Arlington Heights Health Services Dept.

Summertime

By Catherine O'Donnell

This is the time of the year when it's more difficult to find a school superintendent in his office than it is to catch a trout in the deep part of Sick Creek.

This is the season when last semester, summer school and things to finish are done and a certain quiet takes over at the administration buildings.

Things will change later this month when principals meet to prepare for the gathering later of the teachers and you know who follows them.

At High School District 214, Jack Martin, assistant to Superintendent Edward Gilbert is among the missing. He won't be back for a year. Jack is taking a sabbatical to study. He has his doctorate at the University of Illinois. His place is being taken by Stephen Berry.

ONCE MORE

The St. James School Board will meet in the Convent Meeting Room on Friday, Aug. 2, at 8 p.m. President James O'Brien is having a little trouble getting all of the vacationing members together. The meeting originally was scheduled for last week and almost for last night but Friday is the night.

Tonight the St. James School of Religion will hold a meeting in the basement of the Elementary School. The time also is 8 p.m.

WONDERFUL WORLD

The wonderful world of Lt. McDiuggall of the Arlington Heights Police Department has just included a very nice vacation.

Lt. McDiuggall is the kind of man who maintains a cheerful face in the toughest of circumstances. He is busy, but he takes the time to look around and he always has a good story to tell. He and his wife and two children, Nancy, 6, and Jimmy, 10, went to the International Conference of Police Associations in Washington to start.

He was in the company of the Illinois Police Assn. and there were many pleasant remarks there. The family went on to New York. One-brothering they stopped for dinner at a restaurant near their motel called "The Sandi."

"How was everything?" asked the waitress who also added that a woman sitting at a table nearby was from the Chicago area. Lt. McDiuggall stopped to talk. They discovered they were all from the Arlington Heights.

The stranger was not a stranger at all. She was Taddy Griffin who used to work in the advertising department of The Day. She is a hostess at the Sandi, as well as the publisher of a "what-to-do" magazine called the Florida Keys Traveler. She sent a few copies of The Traveler and greetings home to her family table was from the Chicago area.

The McDiuggalls then went north to Fort Lauderdale where they stopped to visit with former Arlington Heights policeman Jerry Pickens who is on the force in that Florida city. Jerry was in Arlington policeman for four years.

The high point of the McDiuggall trip happened when he saw the ship, the Queen Elizabeth, which is docked at Lauderdale. "I just stood and looked at the Queen," he said. "It was just like that."

Day Light

By Joseph Stenhouse

The time has come to declare a dividend for faithful readers of these explorations of the suburban way of life. The most practical way to do this is to show you how to make a big cash saving, right now.

WITH LAST week's escalation of taxes in such dizzy-gritty essentials as tobacco, liquor and so on, plus suggestion we start to save up for a just to Mars and some cortisol injections by local merchants to buy the back-to-school items needed by the youngsters, the time is definitely here to help you to save away a fat saving.

Before you get your hopes too high, we wish to alert you that this saving will be based on the principle illustrated by the man who ran behind a bus all the way home, saving 40 cents the first day, then upped his saving the second day by running home behind a taxi, thus managing a net paper profit of $2.80.

Our favorite financial adviser was, admittedly, the professor who taught literature and made quite a point of reading out the sound, corny maxims of Poor Richard, such as "A penny saved is a penny earned."

ONE CLASSMATE tried tripping him up with a seemingly innocent question: "What if you just don't have a penny to save?"

My mentor solemnly advised: "Just consider it, what you can buy with the penny, if you had saved it."

Most of my fellow-children have stumbled through life without ever figuring that one out. Still, as a financial wizard, I think he should have gone on to higher things, such as a Caltech report, or speech-making at the United Nations.

THE SIMPLE formula for you to make that big cash saving I've promised you is this: do not rush out and buy the executive sand box just put on the market for $450 plus shipping from the Canadian manufacturer.

If you instantly cry "Frustrated!" because you are not an inquisitive, slow down while the explanation unfolds. The device is actually well worth it, according to testimonials who have been lettering up the order desk at Opus Int'l., Inc., in Toronto with eager demands for the 42-inch square sandbox. (There's a choice of turquoise, oak or walnut veneer; with a ledge to sit on, and bathroom lighting that you can turn on with a flip of your wrist.)

One of the things that I've found is that it's a handy little sandbox that's the brainchild of a creative designer, Hugh Spence, whose similar product designs of aspirin, spirit, and other similar products have without doubt solved what has been a problem of how to increase sales.

INCIDENTALLY, some customers have been quoted as claiming there is genuine therapy in using the sandbox, while others have found it useful to pay an extra sum for the lot of mental combs which produce a patina, and have even tested combs to sit on the ledge and play in the sand, too.

I have been a few years since I peddled in a sand box with our assortment of gold diggers, and it all went in the bin. But not $450 worth of fun.

IF YOU ARE an executive and you find the need for the device a pressing one, it might be a good time to take a vacation.

On the other hand, who are we to say what the big thinkers who handle the urgent problems of today actually need to keep them on an even keel? It's possible that instead of shuffling away at the horizon or inhaling a handful of tranquillizers, the mere chore of buying a personal conference with your sub-concussion while constructing a sand-caste may cut down mental wear-and-tear.

THE ORIGINAL root of the idea seems to be Greek civilization's use of "worry-beds" and handled quills opposite, as many inscriptions in Hellenic can testify. It also brings to mind Captain Oong of "The Caine Mutiny," who had a penchant for small velvet gloves. And you know what?

So, if you're an executive, we've shown you the way to save it. If you're not, you can still save cash.

Mrs. Hickel Cooks Outdoors All Year

By Lorraine Lumberty

Mrs. William Hickel is the newly elected president of the Arlington Heights Junior Women's Club. At present, the club's roster includes 600 members and is expected to reach 800 by spring.

The club has a variety of interest groups, and Sylvia is particularly enjoys cooking, sewing, golfing, bowling and playing bridge.

Among the many activities offered by the club are bowling, golfing, bridge, canasta, pinocchle, arts and crafts, ladies' group singing, discussion group, theatre costume group and courses in place of interest in the Chicago area.

A LUNCHEON meeting is held the second Wednesday of each month at Old Orchard Country Club and an evening meeting the third Wednesday of each month at Pioneer Park. In September the club will sponsor their annual benefit card party.

For almost two years, Hickel has a grill last year on which they grill steaks and other meats. They grill in the round. They grill in the round. They grill in the round.

Burgers Bridge the Generation Gap

One sure way to bridge the generation gap is to serve burgers. It's a fact that appeals to every age group. What's more, burgers can bridge the season and even the time of day—they make good eating at lunch, dinner and in between, water and summer.

Since it enjoys such universal popularity, a new variation on the burger theme is always welcome. The R. T. French Company's test kitchen has come up with a dilly dilly call Piquant Potato Burgers.

It's AN EASY but effective recipe that calls for complementary seasonings in salt and the bread spread.

An envelope of ground beef seasoning with onion flavors the ground beef. And the beef is sparked with ground cheese and prepared yellow mustard. Spread on the bun lightly and add burger—as unbreakable as a nut.

Another food beloved by everyone is fresh corn-on-the-cob. And spread with French's Cream Butter—a simple mixture of butter, instant minced onion and salt—on the vegetable is an incompressible summer treat.

PIQUANT POTATO BURGERS

1 pound ground beef
1 egg white (1½ ounce)
French's Cream Butter Seasoning with onion

2 tablespoons salt
2 tablespoons onion
4 hamburger buns or 1 round loaf of soft-roll bread

1 cup soft butter
1½ cups ground French's Cream Butter

3 tablespoons French's prepared yellow mustard
1 tablespoon French's Piquant Potato

Tomato chutney
Combine ground beef, contents of envelope of seasoning salt, onion and water; let stand 10 minutes at directed. Shape into 4 patties for use on one large party; grill or pan fry to desired doneness.

Combine butter, French's cream mustard and piquant potato spread on split buns or loaf of French white bread; spread in half. Top lightly with beef patties and tomato chutney.

Do's and Don'ts of Lawn Care

People all across the country are observing the summer of moving their lawn care. And, as their part of the ritual, doctors around the area are tending to the resulting cuts, punctures and burns, some of them quite serious.

To reduce your family's chances of injury this summer, here are some do's and don'ts for the lawn care season.

DO the following:

1. DON'T let the lawn mower run on a hot engine. Let it cool for at least 10 minutes.

2. DON'T mow the working area of children, pets and debris. Cover blades with a 2,500 rpm and any foreign object picks up becomes a deadly missile traveling at bullet speed. Better to use a temporary "bad guy" on your children than expose them to this kind of hazard.

3. DON'T pull your mower. Push it only. You could get over your foot.

4. DON'T have the mower running if you have to go anywhere, even for a minute.

5. DON'T drink the mower while it's running. That's pretty obvious, but tragically, some kids push their lawns and lose their fingers.

6. DON'T land your mower to a neighbor without proper instruction.

DO disconnect the wire from the spark plug when you are through mowing. If it's connected, it can start. Unexpectedly.

Ice Cream Treat at Band Concert Tonight

Something special will be added to the Palatine Village Band performance tonight at 8.

The First Methodist Church of Palatine will have an ice cream social complete with ice cream parlor tables, chairs and booths in the Palatine Park just opposite the Band Shell.

The social will begin at 6:30 and the concert will start at 8.

The program will include plenty of the listeners' favorite marches. This will be the sixth in a series of ten concerts that were given much work in the Palatine Rd. and Northwest Hwy.

LESLIE GOULD who is in charge of the publicity for the well-known band estimated that 600 music lovers gathered beneath the stars last week to listen. Most of them brought folding chairs or blankets to sit on.

"People always come up to us after the concert," Gould, who lives at 155 S. Route 141, Route 141, said. "They tell us what they like and what they don't like and we try to make our body more music."

Dr. John R. Shoemaker, musical director of the Palatine Village Band and well-known music educator in the Palatine and northwest suburban areas, has announced his appointment as assistant professor of musical education and conductor of special ensembles at the University of Hawaii at Honolulu.

Shoemaker Gets Hawaii Appointment

Dr. John R. Shoemaker, musical director of the Palatine Village Band and well-known music educator in the Palatine and northwest suburban areas, has announced his appointment as assistant professor of musical education and conductor of special ensembles at the University of Hawaii at Honolulu.

Dr. Shoemaker was born in Hardsville, attended school in Downers Grove, and earned his Bachelor of Music degree at Drake University, his Master's degree at Northwestern University, and his Doctorate at the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign in 1955.

He has many credits as guest conductor of leading organizations and as a trombone and baritone horn soloist and has played with the St. Louis, Des Moines, and Evanston symphony orchestras, and dance bands such as Ralph Flanagan and Blue Baron.

County Club Theatre Director Norman Rice has announced that Tom Elrod will replace Stephen Cui in the current production, "The Marriage-Go-Round" Tuesday, Aug. 12. Once again, Rice has run into the same problem. Just much audience interest and previous commitments made for an actor. Cui is a 44-month engagement which would make it impossible for him to make it. "The Marriage-Go-Round" will be played Tuesday, Aug. 12, closing date. Elrod is a long time favorite of the County Club play group. The box office number is C1 54-64. Reservations can be made for dinner and theatre.

ABBY DALTON who has had three famous television husbands, Jackie Cooper, Jerry Bishop and Jonathan Winters, plays the girlfriend of an actor in the Roman drama comedy, "Love in 5-Act" at Phoenix Star Playhouse Aug. 12 through Labor Day, Sept. 1.

Arlington Heights May Become Sports Center

Arlington Heights is expected to become the nation's foremost sporting venue in the 1970s. The Arlington Park annexation agreement between Arlington Heights and Oak and Western Industries, Inc., is to be finalized soon.

Officials on both sides are determined that the annexation will be a landmark for combined aggressive public development in the area.

ALL-WEATHER year-round sports center at Arlington Park is in the picture and would mean that Arlington Park could conduct two seasons, possibly on the same day.

At least two sports could be selected from thoroughbred racing, major league baseball, or professional football, hockey or basketball.

Four factors not duplicated anywhere else in the Chicago area, and perhaps not in any other big urban center in the country, make these developments unique.

ARLINGTON PARK is in the very heart of an interstate highway and expressway complex unparalleled anywhere and which places millions of people within an hour of Arlington Park.

The network of four expressways from the Indiana Line, to the Fox River on the west and Lake County on the north.

The park's close proximity to O'Hare Field, Arlington Park is in the midst of the largest people could make up the people who can afford to regularly patronize a professional sporting event.

THE PARK has a big hand start toward providing good parking space, and can already handle more than 15,000 cars within lighted, fenced and paved areas.

This does not mean that taxpayers will be expected to foot

Mayor Urges Taking Steps To Ease Traffic Congestion

By Bob Casey

Admitting that a permanent solution to downtown congestion problems may be many years away, Arlington Heights Mayor John Walsh last night offered several short-range steps which he said would bring relief to the downtown area.

They include:

- Making downtown streets one-way.

- Creating a multi-level parking garage on the DuSable, C.I. parking lot, hopefully, with federal aid.

- Acquiring the Hill-Behan Lumber Co. property for additional parking facilities.

- Appointing a committee of the Village Board to work with nearby suburbs in obtaining federal transportation funds.

Walsh said a Village Board committee-of-the-whole meeting that Arlington Heights must urge more aggressive action in finding area-wide solutions to downtown traffic congestion.

He said the village should consider "funding, assistance, whatever we can do" for area-wide action.

Walsh said the Northeastern Municipal Conference (NMC) has "been engaged in a study to help in the study."

Walsh said the NMC study is "a study of the transportation needs of this area."

portion needs of this area." He accused the NMC of "fumbling" with the transportation problem.

Village officials said they were disappointed after a recent trip to Washington where they learned that federal transportation funds could only be obtained in conjunction with other suburbs along the Chicago and North Western.

Walsh said that to solve short-range problems the village would have to take a self-help approach.

"I THINK IT'S time we deal with some specific action on transportation problems," he said.

"Regardless of what happens," he said, "we will need at least one super-parking facility in the downtown area."

"We can't wait any longer for parking," he said.

Walsh said he is confident that his one-way street proposal for the downtown area would be controversial, but said either parking or traffic pattern had to be changed. He said he favors keeping diagonal rather than parallel parking.

A second committee, advised jointly at Arlington Park, Walsh said, may make more than one downtown parking garage unnecessary. The downtown area would have to handle 5,000 cars daily. Opening of Arlington Park station would take some of the pressure off the downtown station.

Walsh stressed that co-operation among suburbs is the key to obtaining federal funds. He said he will propose that the Village Board form a committee to work with the NMC and other communities and see if we can encourage some concrete results.

Walsh said talks with other suburbs should include the CANV "to think about what the railroad will be and about 20 or 30 years from now."

"We're not talking just about Arlington Heights," he said. "We're talking about the transportation needs of half a million people."

He said the population of the northwest suburbs soon would reach that figure.

Walsh said that the village would prefer to work through the Northeastern Illinois Planning Commission (NIPC), but said the NIPC needs to be "stimulated."

Day Wins Promotion Prize

Day Publications has been awarded first place in promotion display by the International Association of Circulation Managers.

The award was given to Day Publications for its promotion display at the International Association of Circulation Managers meeting in Toronto, Canada.

Richard N. Puetz, circulation director, accepted the award for The Day.

The specific promotion display depicted a village offer to Day customers. More than 1,500 subscribers responded to the offer to win more than 100 new customers.

Puetz said the offer was intended to stimulate advertising in the newspaper. Because of the "surprising response," other merchants of special value and quality will be offered to Day readers, Puetz added.

He cited as a recent example a flag offer and said The Day will shortly suggest another line of special offers.

"The response was most gratifying," Puetz said. "Basically the idea of offering merchandise as a reward for a new subscriber is not new, but the timing along with items to existing customers, at cost or below, suggests a new idea for newspaper service. We intend to do just that, after carefully studying quality, volume and price."

Matthew L. Rodwell, executive director of the NIPC, included in the study area is bounded roughly on the east by California and the south by DuSable Parkway.

Tune in the Late Show for Fall's Fashion Picture

By Frances Altman

If you have watched any old movies lately, you may have already recognized that the leading ladies are all wearing the latest styles. Yet, the flowing wide leg and wrap around waists, jumpsuits, boleros and vests are back—straight out of the thirties and forties.

Yesterday's styles, however, look even better in bolded jersey or flannel, topography, sculptured corduroy or crepe gabardine. Mix these "now" fabrics with mad-plaid, geometrics or stripes, topped with lean scarves, yards and yards of chains and a soft wide-brimmed hat.

You too can "Tune in to the Late Great Sew," suggests Seventeen Magazine, which recently featured a selection of McCall's new fall patterns at a style show at Winchell's Ramhurst store.

LEFT: Cindy Neely, Winchell Friend High School, modeled these "new" pants with high-waist and suspenders (McCall's 2224-2225) in Seventeen Magazine's fall fashion presentation at Winchell's, featuring McCall's pattern. You saw a similar style in "Follow the Fleck" on the late show.

RIGHT: Jean Frenkel wears McCall's 9756 in Loomis's purple and white painted mesh flattery with a long fly-away scarf which can be flipped over the shoulder. White longest vest is in Heller's "back-to-back" hooded Jersey. In "Candace" Ingrid Bergman wore this style in charm Roger.

ACCESSORIES TOO will play a more prominent role in completing the fashion picture. Scarves are still the pace setters, growing longer and looser. They need not be of silk either. Wool and knit ones are now appearing for winter wear.

Buttons, brooches and belt buckles have returned in bold brass or antique designs. Many a mother or grandmother may still have these items tucked away in forgotten jewelry boxes or bottom cans.

THE "UP-BAG," with its lengthy leather or chain handle, is another versatile accessory from the 40s, swinging from the shoulder with ease and always at finger-level.

LEFT: Red-dove the dove that goes over pants! Two dozen years ago the leading lady wore a similar version in "Algers" Gail Meacham, Henry High School, wears it now in a shiny flared print, McCall's 2012-2013. All the girls are members of Winchell's Junior Fashion Board at Ramhurst.

ABOVE: Kawn Gaskberg, Make East High School, opened the door to the 40's and recalled these silver dress programs with the vision of her McCall's 9760 patterned pink wrap blouse (McCall's 9777). Over shoes and multiple lengths of chain are accessories from "It Happened One Night."

Tax Reform -- Not at Expense Of Churches

By David Felling

An emotional and vivid discussion being held by the Senate Finance Committee on the area of tax reform. Under every special consideration that has been part of the tax regulations of our government is under scrutiny. This means the 27 per cent depletion allowance enjoyed by real estate companies.

It touches the high income brackets of multi-millionaires who have found shelter in tax exempt municipal bonds as well as within the income brackets of the middle class. It affects many socially conscious individuals who have been manipulated by family or individual greed created them. The loopholes are not only being closed but sealed as well.

BUT A closer look at the reform proposals of the Senate Finance Committee suggests a paralyzing crunch on a vast number of churches and other non-profit organizations of our national life.

A bill being considered would virtually wipe out the tax exemption for churches and charitable organizations for college, hospitals, churches and other non-profit organizations. It means that a person would no longer have a tax incentive for the advantage to give securities, property or other assets in return for a life income contract.

The individual now enjoys the option of supporting the church or other non-profit organization of his choice through the gift of property or securities that have appreciated over the years.

AND WHEN you look closely at these outside sources, you will find that they represent major capital gifts or donations to the church. It is the result of the appreciation of securities or real property.

This should be no surprise and ought to be regarded as one of the highest things that our nation has done for the expansion of non-governmental organizations.

A tremendous amount of health, education and welfare pour out of our private, secular centers. To stamp out this source or to shut down these foundations would be a staggering loss to the nation.

THEY would be a staggering loss to the nation. The church is not only a source of spiritual life but also a source of social and economic life.

Wilmette Short Changes Logan Square Nine, 6-2

By Mike Isaacs
Wilmette broke open a tight game with three runs in the fifth inning and went on to beat the Logan Square Lions, 6-2, in Wilmette last night.

Logan Square, hit by Isaacs and other problems, sailing for only seven of its 10 innings of the game. Coach Larry Nesselund horrowed two players from Northbrook's legion team to play.

The Lions were the victors in Wilmette's North Ward. The south, left-hander started the full seven innings, giving up seven hits and striking out 11. Ward fanned the first two Logan Square hitters in the first, but three straight hits then produced a Lions run. Bill Madden, Mike Golden and Jim Kenney got the hits with Kenney getting credit for the RBI.

Wilmette got their run back in the second on a walk and Tom Dietz' two-run single to left. The host team then went ahead in the fourth when Ward hit a prodigious homer over Mike O'Donnell's head in center.

THE LIONS tied the game in the top of the fifth, again with a two-out rally. John Keller walked and moved to second on Jeff Depp's single. Ward then attempted to push Keller off second, but his throw got past the shortstop. Keller went to third and continued home when the throw to put the game away.

Wilmette then took advantage of sloppy Logan Square fielding to score in three fifth-inning runs. The Lions left fielder played routine fly into a

Waycinden Rebounds Against Wheeling

By Bill Copeland

The Waycinden A-B-S team met the Wheeling A-B-S team for the third time last night and last time 9-2 to take the championship. Wheeling had beaten Waycinden 8-7 in their first contest, but Waycinden bounced back with a 2-0 victory in the second game to force a third game playoff.

Both teams were evenly matched in their first two games but it was a different story last night as Wheeling lost some of their drive.

IN THE FIRST INNING Waycinden went down in order, but Wheeling managed to get two men on in their first inning. Mike Nalwren led off for Wheeling with a single to right. Ron Herricks then struck out Mark Kierwalks to Kan Minkola, Gary Martin and Mike Dulwich to begin Wheeling's offense. Minkola and Dulwich both scored on wild pitches and Martin crossed the plate on an infield grounder by Tom Parker.

Another three runs in the top of the third gave Waycinden a 6-0 lead. After Mike Raymond grounded out to Taylor on the mound, Tom Maher and Fred Cervino hit back-to-back singles to get the rally started. Maher, who had gone to second on an error and wild throw, scored on Cervino's single.

Wheeling made the big hit in the bottom of the third. Ron Herricks led the rally to right field. Herricks scored when Thorp hit one through Dulwich. Waycinden's first baseman.

Waycinden again scored three runs in the top of the fourth to make the score 9-1. Raymond led off and made it all the way to second when Herricks threw one over Dole Kierff's head at first. Rich Hanning was then safe with a single and Cervino drew a walk. Two errors, a wild pitch, and a sacrifice fly by Minkola put the three-run score.

WHEELING SCORED their second and last run in the bottom of the fourth on two hits. Bob Peters and Don Groot led off with back-to-back singles but Peters was later called out because of interference in a play to field a ball hit by Mark Schmidt. Groot scored their run on Dale Kierff's grounder to shortstop.

Neither team could score in the last three innings and the game ended 9-2.

Kessinger, Beckert Slate Personal Appearance Here

Chicago Cubs stars Don Kessinger and Glenn Beckert will momentarily get off their permanent appearance to make a personal appearance at Town House TV, 7243 Touhy Ave., Park Ridge, from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. on Wednesday, Aug. 27.

Howard Newhouse and Mitchell Moore of Town House TV arranged the appearance. The stars will be available for autographs, and the public is invited to attend the party.

SECOND BASEMAN

Beckert, who took over the keystone sack after the tragic death of Kim Hobbs five years ago, is one of the most underrated players in the National League. His ability to go to the opposite field doesn't appear to in any record books, and for the past two years he has been the toughest man in the league to strike out.

Kessinger's is one of the big success stories in modern baseball. His ability to field major-league fashion was never doubted, but he was brought up before he had learned to hit big league pitching and it was not until 1966 when he learned the art of the strike that he came into his own at the plate.

Beckert and Kessinger are both around the 300 mark this season, and they are acknowledged by most baseball experts as the best double-play combination in either league.

Three Win Bicycle Races at Northbrook

Dan Jilek of Mount Prospect won the Senior Division. Bryan Killey of Arlington Heights captured the Senior 10-Mile race to highlight last night's bicycle racing at Northbrook's Meadow Hill Park.

Dennis cranton of Arlington won an intermediate half-mile race and finished second in the final of the event. Mount Prospect's Greg Berg finished second in the same race and took a fourth in the final. Killey of Arlington Heights, was fourth in his heat.

Rich Value of Mount Prospect won the highest half-mile race with Rich Killey second and Glenn Berg, who is only seven years old, was third.

Rich Robertson finished second and Greg Berg fifth in the intermediate mile-and-a-half race.

Washington Park Handicap On Tap Tomorrow at Track

The nation's leading handicap horses, including No-doubt, Verbatim, Francis, Kiana, George and King Martin, will gather at Arlington Park Saturday for the $100,000 added Washington Park Handicap.

The one-mile classic will be run for the 42nd time and its past winners read like the Who's Who of racing. Last year's race went to Dr. Fagan, while others who have won this race include Round Table.

Packer Up, Sings and Arrived. It WAS in the Washington Park Handicap last year that Tarn Stables' brilliant Dr. Fagan set his racing world record of 1:32 1/5 for the mile, and it came under the top weight of 134 pounds.

The other Arlington Park stake this week, the $200,000 added Lasini Trial Stakes, will bring out many of the leading juvenile fillies on the grounds, including Andrew and Dan Gella's Belle Neve, winner of the recent Majorette here. No-doubt, the winner of three $100,000 stakes this year is presently the reigning handicap champion and a candidate for "Horse of the Year" honors. However, he is receiving a late challenge by Elmendorf Farms Verbatim, who has taken three major stakes of late, including the $100,000 added Haskell Handicap at Monmouth Park.

AS ARLINGTON PARK heads down the home stretch of its combined meeting, there are seven stakes left after the Washington Park Handicap. They are the $200,000 added Futurity Trial on Aug. 20, the $50,000 added Matron for three-year-olds on Aug. 21, the $200,000 added Governor's Cup for three-year-olds and on Aug. 22, and the American Derby, which offers a purse of $100,000 added on Aug. 30.

The last three include the Arlington Lassie on Sept. 1, the $400,000 Arlington-Washington Futurity on Sept. 6 and the closing day feature, the $500,000 added Louisiana Armory for three-year-olds and up on Sept. 6.

Allen's Golfers Gaining On Tank's YMCA Leaders

The Tandem, better known as Team Seven, held onto their lead in the second half of the YMCA Twilight Golf League although Allen's Stogie, the Men cut their lead by taking 414 points from Nova and Parker.

Although the weather was perfect only four holes were registered during the evening's play. Ed Nixon got two on the 13th and 16th holes on his way to a low score of 36 for the night. Other hole shooters were Matt Bromberg on seven and Dick Nason of Allen's tied for second low score of the night with scores of 40. Kenney and Ed Nixon tied for low net with 33's while several other players had 34's.

Market Research Comes Up With 'Dream Kitchen'

Page 14 THE DAY Friday, August 8, 1969

Realty Company of America, Inc., has come up with the homeowner's "dream kitchen" in an intense, market research survey.

The kitchen, with more than 166 square feet of space, is featured in the "Jamestown", a $49,900 two-story, colonial model, which was introduced for the first time at Kingsbridge in Arlington Heights.

By SURVEYING a representative sample of 78 home owners, Random discovered what features most people want and included them in Jamestown kitchen along with a few bonuses.

Stated preferences include: Wood cabinets, 92.3 per cent; Garbage disposal, 84.6 per cent; Built-in dishwasher, 69.23 per cent; Formica brand countertops, 64.10 per cent; Gas oven and range, 64.10 per cent.

Reasons for installing high-quality wood cabinets with a choice of cabinet or walnut finish and post-formed Formica countertops.

APPLIANCES, ALL by RCA. Whirlpool in major re-odeled by 91.03 per cent of the surveyed homeowners), include built-in dishwasher, a huge disposer, a gas oven and a built-in range that features a two-speed exhaust fan and self-flaming hood.

The most significant bonus in the dream kitchen is a fully shined walk-in pantry, an accommodation that is making a come-back as the result of public demand.

In other research, Random discovered that women desire a kitchen that is laid off in a corner, away from the rest of the house and family activities.

THE DREAM kitchen offers no such architectural sight to the woman of the house. It is centrally located with access from three directions—the dining room, the backyard and a hallway that connects to both the living and family rooms.

The kitchen features include a vinyl asbestos tile floor, abundant work surfaces, a double sink and ample room for a table and chairs.

the back yard. The flooring is a vinyl asbestos tile.

HARDWOOD FLOORS are used throughout the home. The removable Andersen windows are aluminum on the outside and wood on the inside.

The Jamestown exterior combines face brick and rough cedar siding. The gabled roof has a self-sealing asphalt shingles.

LANDSCAPING, INCLUDED in the price of the house, provides for an asphalt drive, mulched lawn, top soil, trees and shrubs. Average lot sizes are 70 by 125 feet.

To see the Jamestown with its dream kitchen, plus four other luxury models, take the Northwest Turnpike to Elmhurst (Rt. 83), go north to Cook Road, then west to Kingsbridge (Four Points, Arlington Heights Rd.). Models are open daily and Sunday, from 10 a.m. until dark.

Take Pains When Measuring Panes

Take some of the pain out of replacing that broken window pane by measuring properly. Always measure from the inside of the sash opening, deducting one-eighth of an inch from both the width and the height to allow for contraction and expansion of the frame with weather changes.

MEASURE AT LEAST two times. Check your figures. Don't rely on memory. Jot the data down. It helps sometimes to measure the broken pane if one crumb remains unbroken, either along the width and length. Check that measurement against the figure you've jotted down.

When removing the old pane, stay fragments often remain imbedded in the sash. Wear gloves for protection. Run the edge of the putty tool slowly along the sash rail. If a sliver has buried itself in old putty or woodwork.

Earl Moore hasn't mowed his lawn all summer.

Yes Earl's family has one of the best looking yards in the community.

They live in Elk Grove Village Town House Estates, where your association takes care of the mowing and all exterior maintenance.

But, every living man's got that's great about Elk Grove Village.

Town House living. There's also the 16-acre sports field lake around which the town house community is built. The schools, elementary through high school, parochial as well.

across Arlington Heights Road. Of course, churches of virtually every faith. And community service clubs.

Drive our today. See the spacious 2.5 bed-4 bedroom town houses, with up to 3 baths. All the advantages of home ownership with the carefree convenience of town house living.

An all-brick fireplace with raised hearth is the focal point of the living space. The family room has an insulated 9-foot sliding glass door leading to a bathroom's ceiling is subject to just as much steam and moisture as any other area in the bath and should be protected just as the walls and floor are, says the T.C. Council of America.

Floor Shows Ugly Joints

Q. The linoleum in my kitchen shows the joints of the wood floor underneath, and I want to replace it because of the appearance and the fact that it is wearing out at the best lines. What can I do to prevent a recurrence?

A. The living room is 23 feet 2 inches by 12 feet and joins the 11 feet by 12 feet informal dining room.

Floor covering experts have discovered a remedy.

They first lay over the old floor some Macrome Underlayment, joints of a very smooth and uniformly-chinked (one under-fourths inch) hardwood that will hide the old floor's imperfections and provide a perfect surface for the new covering.

Employing the results of a market research survey, Realty Co. of America, Inc., has devised the "dream kitchen" for the Jamestown model in Kingsbridge. The kitchen includes a walk-in pantry, wood cabinets, garbage disposal, built-in dishwasher, Formica brand countertops, gas oven and range, as well as other plus features.

Wall of Railroad Ties Will Last a Long Time

BY GEORGE E. CREED

Two men can easily make a wall of railroad ties like that shown here. Since ties are pressure-treated with wood a long time. Their use is recommended for high retaining walls, but they serve well in water up to four feet in height.

To build a wall of this kind, first establish the alignment you want by stretching a string between two stakes. Then level the ground upon which the wall will rest. Next, drill a hole in each end of each tie to receive vertical supports. These, as the cross-section indicates, should be about 1/2 inch in diameter to receive half-inch pipes or iron construction rods. Each hole should be about 6 inches from an end and on the center line of the tie.

well as a seat. Whether to do this will, of course, depend on the height and location of the wall. To make such a seat lasting, give the planks two inches of a good grade of concrete on all sides. Next, drill holes for water or air to flow out from the top ties. As is mentioned in the sketch, it is a good idea to connect each hole to the top tie. Home Buying Picture Won't Get Any Better

If you can find a house you like, grab it.

If you can get financing for it, even at high interest, you might as well get your teeth and sign up.

The immediate future for home buyers does not look any brighter, according to the Family Economics Bureau of Northwestern National Life Insurance Co.

TO MEET NATIONAL goals set in the Housing Act of 1968, builders would have to put up 2.6 million units—houses and apartments—a 1.3 million.

Even if builders were able to meet the year's goal, there would still be the pent-up demand of the past several years to meet.

The result is the housing new and old, is snapping up as quickly as it becomes available. The few houses in the home buying race wind up in an apartment. (The market there is not much better. In many metropolitan areas, the vacancy rate is as low as two per cent.)

Another major problem facing home buyers is money. The cost of housing has shot up, and so has the cost of borrowing money.

THE PRICES OF LAND, labor and materials have raised housing by 10 per cent or more a year, the insurance company's Family Economics Bureau reports.

The demand for existing housing has raised the median price from $18,000 in 1966 to $21,160 this year, according to a recent report by the National Association of Real Estate Boards.

Because of the scarcity of money, interest rates on mortgages have risen to unprecedented highs.

SHOULD A PROSPECTIVE home buyer wait a while in hopes interest rates will go down?

The advice from Saul Kuzman, chief economist for the National Association of Mutual Savings Banks, is: buy now.

Since World War II there has been an "interest rate upward push" of prices, he said.

Even if interest rates did go down in six months or a year, the cost of housing would have risen enough to wipe out any saving, he said.

"AND THERE IS nothing in the offing that would logically lead one to say he should wait for prices to come down."

Even if one assumes inflation will abate, Kuzman said, the backlog of demand for housing will keep prices rising for some time to come.

There is some hope that the Vietnam War will end and release money for domestic needs and that strong federal interest in housing will help ease the strain in the next few years.

There is some hope that monetary and fiscal policy can bring a slight decline in interest rates in the coming year.

But for today's home buyer, the motto seems to read "Buy now and pay and pay and pay."

Suburban Chest Council Names Exec. Director

Philip A. Merriman, 37, acting executive director of the Suburban Community Chest Council since the April resignation of J. Ross McLeod, has been named executive director. Anthony J. Forst, president of the Council's board of directors, has announced.

Fryszak is vice president and secretary of Porec, Inc., Oak Brook.

The Suburban Community Chest Council, with headquarters in Berwyn, is a federation of 108 Community Chests and United Funds in a nine county area surrounding Chicago.

In 1968 the council became the third partner in the Metropolitan Fund of Chicago and the Mid-America Chapter of the Red Cross.

The other two are the Community Fund of Chicago and the Mid-America Chapter of the Red Cross.

This year about $3,478,000 raised in last fall's Crusade of Mercy campaign is being distributed by the suburban council to member chests and funds which participate in the Crusade.

Ninety-two suburban chests will participate in the 1969 Crusade of Mercy which begins Aug. 2 with a goal of $27,500,000.

MERRIMAN HAS worked closely with the volunteers of many suburban chests, assisting them in strengthening their boards and programs, and in budgeting and raising funds for the support of local suburban health and welfare services.

He also assisted a number of communities to establish chests or funds for the local area.

Before joining the suburban council staff in January, 1967, Merriman was director of development at Michael Reese Hospital in Chicago. Prior to that he was assistant director of financial development for the National Conference of Christians and Jews.

A native of Indiana and a graduate of the University of Illinois, Merriman lives in Evanston with his wife and two children.

James L. Row has been promoted to night manager of the Chicago Marriott Motor Hotel, Robert Barrie, general manager, announced today. Barrie, previously front office supervisor, has been with the hotel one year.

He graduated from Michigan State University in East Lansing, with a B.A. in business administration, and a master's in hotel, restaurant and institutional management.

Your Weekly Horoscope

BY OLGA
(Aug. 9-15)

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Behind-the-scenes forces are at work a week ahead which could very possibly alter your career for some time to come. Keep eyes and ears open and antenna in good working condition. At week's end, you will have gained a keen sense of the value of time.

Taurus (April 20-May 20): Don't concern yourself with trifles during coming week. If your energies are spent on little things you will be incapable of great ones. You may be tempted to let the matter drift away. Fight this, for coming week should be active one careerwise. Week winds up on note of fun. And heaven knows you deserve a little diversion.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Just because you are willing to "fight to the death" to prove your point, Gem, doesn't necessarily make it true. Open your mind and let a little fresh air. While you're at it, get rid of some of those mental cobwebs which have collected. Don't fear change.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Your search for "truth," Moonchild, may cause you much dismay in week ahead. Just remember that truth is tough. It may get kicked and shot at in the morning, but when evening rolls around, it will still be there, waiting to be recognized.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Listen here, Leo, you'd better remove your diamonds long enough to observe what's going on around you. If you don't you won't see it. Keep in mind old Irish saying: "There are none so blind as those who will not see."

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Time is favorable, Virgo, to explore new opportunities, perhaps from a reliable agency. Leo will seem absurd, but give them a go anyway. Avoid any new personage. Relax and enjoy. It just may prove exciting.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): You are entering a phase of your life when change is the key. The moon has positively already begun. The change will be profound and offer you a rare opportunity for growth and maturity. The change will be of a very personal nature. Relax and enjoy. It just may prove exciting.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Stay off the sauce for the first three days of week. Scorp, when it's making hot and spicy, may seem absurd, but give them a go anyway. Avoid any new personage. Relax and enjoy. It just may prove exciting.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Shake off responsibilities in week ahead and cut out for fun and games. Ideal time for travel. Invitations are sure to come your way. Accept, accept! Don't be shy.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): This is a week when you should experience a great feeling of relief concerning some responsibility. If you plan a journey of any considerable length, plan well. Get expert advice, perhaps from a reliable agency.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Trips, vacations and new adventures are in the works. You are at a point where you are going to have to make some important decision. Trust your own judgment. But mull the situation over well first. Solution to problem cannot be postponed any longer.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Good week to relax. Prices, and forget old anxieties. Things are seldom what they seem. Before week is over, a new opportunity will come your way which they alter your entire career. Think positive thoughts. Key word is "trust." On last day of week, check money matters closely.

Designed for Young Buyers

The Winston Development Corp. has completed a survey of the last 100 custom home buyers in its Hunting Ridge community in Palatine. The trend of the survey indicates an emergence of an increasing young market, one which is interested in buying a home in the $40,000 to $50,000 custom class, and which is becoming a major factor in the home buying market as it has in other markets.

M. Average Hunting Ridge, as its profile developed from the survey, is 30 to 39 years old (41 per cent of the younger 19 per cent of the buyers are under 30). His average annual income of $16,000 to $25,000 (80 per cent) is steadily rising. The four, five and six bedroom $42,000 to $50,000 homes comfortably accommodate his family of three to four children.

Generally 68 per cent of the buyers, who have lived in the area since 1960, he has owned a home before, in the northwest suburbs (48 per cent), Chicago (16 per cent) or the west suburbs (11 per cent). Not infrequently, however, his company has transferred him into the area (20 per cent).

COMMENTING on their new home, Mr. Hunting Ridge and his wife discuss their favorite features. "We love the amount of living space in the house. All the rooms are large and airy, especially the bedrooms."

"Today, because we, and most of the people we know that matter, don't have full-time help, the whole family lives in one home the year-round so we need a multi-purpose self-contained space where each can enjoy himself and where we can dine and entertain informally. Our first floor family room is ideal with its easy access to the kitchen.

Of course, we love the elegance of our separate dining room. It's exactly right for more formal occasions."

"We are impressed with the amount of living space incorporated into the house we chose and the other four models we saw. And the space has been designed to give the convenient family living as well as privacy and seclusion. The master bedroom, with its large closet, because of its large volume and position, is a great retreat, the Winston Development Corporation was able to give us more space, value and comfort in our home than we could have expected for a house in this price range."

ALL FIVE distinctively designed homes in Hunting Ridge are built on a minimum of 12,000 square feet of lot and range in price from $42,000 to $55,000. The community has been planned so that there will be 2 1/2 houses per acre. The balance of the land will be devoted to parks, churches of every denomination and school sites. When completed, the 200 acre Hunting Ridge area in Palatine will have 427 families.

The homes available in Hunting Ridge are the Avondale, a five bedroom, three bath mid-level home with 2,482 square feet of living space, the Belmont, a four bedroom, two-bath colonial with 2,154 or 3 baths that features 2,739 feet of living area, the Carnegie, a four bedroom, 2 1/2 bath ranch with 2,412 square feet of living space, the Darlington, a four bedroom, 2 1/2 bath home with 2,802 square feet of living area on two levels, and the Eldridge with six bedrooms, 3 1/2 baths and 3,322 square feet of living space in two stories. All homes feature a basement and average two car garage. Model homes located at 831 Essex Court in Palatine are open for inspection daily from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m.

THE WINSTON Development Corp. currently has the following active developments in the Chicago market: Hunting Ridge, Winston Hills, Winston Knolls, Winston Towers and Winston Court. The corporation is a subsidiary of the K.K. Kunkel & Co. Corp., one of the country's largest publicly-owned realty companies and a major developer of regional shopping centers.

For Sore Backs

If the doctor orders a sleeping board, get a piece of Masonite, one-half inch thick. Temporarily remove the top of your bed. Place the board on the floor. Lay on it. You will find it very comfortable. Here are the standard sizes: Double, four feet by five feet, 30-inch by five feet; or four feet by six feet; or four feet by eight feet. Round edges and corners with a file or sandblock, and split the panel between the head and mattress. For a king or queen size bed, ask your dealer to supply two cut-size panels.

Lap Boards for Meals Enroute

Even in the most modern kitchen, a utility board is a convenience item. A handy one is about 20 by 24 inches, cut from Masonite Tempform Fibreboard. This hardboard product is splinter-free, extremely smooth and moisture resistant.

SUCH A BOARD, with its corners rounded and edges lightly beveled with a sandblock or file, has various in the kitchen and about the house. Here are a few:

FOR ROLLING pie crusts. To protect table tops from extremely hot dishes, or from being scratched by sharp cutlery.

As a sandwich or salad board.

FOR COOLING hot pies or cakes.

For a lighted one which to write letters on for delivery.

As a surface for cracking nuts or slicing small kitchen repairs.

A Bath Divided

Among the most popular bathroom design trends is the compartmented bath, one that is divided into sections from each other to permit their simultaneous use. Ceramic tile is often used to decorate the three separate compartments together, because tile is one of the few surfaces with both the practicality and decorative versatility for the job, adds the consultant.

How To Tackle Glass Replacement

Almost any time of the year is a time for broken windows—a storm-driven branch can crash through in any season. Warm weather, however, brings its added hazards with youngsters playing ball or dad taking a few practice swings with his golf club.

Replacing a broken window pane is a still one job that most any homeowner can tackle. You needn't have a glass cutter in your tool box. Most hardware stores will cut glass to size for you.

SEMINALLY THE easiest, but probably the most important part of the job is getting the dimensions of the glass. Measure the inside of the frame opening. Then measure it again. A third time won't hurt either. Then deduct an eighth of an inch from the length and the same amount from the width.

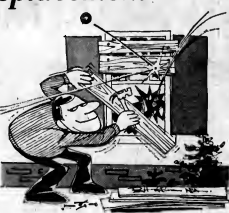

Making the glass slightly smaller will allow for the possible expansion of the wood frame, something that happens regularly with changing weather conditions. If the glass were a eighth fit it would crack when the frame changed size slightly.

WORK CAREFULLY with a chisel in keeping out the possible expansion of the wood frame, something that happens regularly with changing weather conditions. If the glass were a eighth fit it would crack when the frame changed size slightly.

Removing the old pane of glass can be hazardous unless gloves are worn to protect your hands. Pull out the glass with all a slight effort. Small pieces that remain behind will come out with the petty when you remove that.

Check Baths

If you are home hunting, a good indication of whether a home is well designed can be gotten from its bathroom, says the Title Council of America. Are they conveniently located? Are they efficiently designed? Are walls, floors and vanity tops surfaced with durable, top quality materials such as ceramic tile?

Almost any time of the year is a time for broken windows—a storm-driven branch can crash through in any season.

touching it for a moment with a hot soldering iron. A blow torch will work as well but is more dangerous. Work carefully in either case.

Remove the old glass's points as you go along. There are small pieces of metal imbedded in the wood every four inches and then covered with putty. These you can't pull out with your fingers can be removed easily with pliers.

With all the old pane's points out, brush some linseed oil on the wood frame where the new points will go. This acts as a necessary precaution when putty was used previously. The linseed oil is the pane from being absorbed by the wood. Now glazing compound, which is far better, is generally used for putting. But brushing on linseed oil is still a good idea—it's good for the wood.

TAKE A SMALL amount of compound and roll it in your hands until it's about the shape and size of a pencil. Press this into the frame all the way around where the glass will go.

Next set the glass in the putty-lined frame. Examine the glass carefully, and make sure that it has a slight curve. Place the inside of the curve on
